MOSCOW, Aug. 20.—German mechanized forces driving against the Volga industrial city of Stalingrad smashed across the Don river barrier southeast of Kletskaya but the entire unit of 500 men and 18 tanks was destroyed, the Soviet high command announced today.

Soviet troops counter-attacked in the Kletskaya area, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, and German attempts to cross the river south of the city was repelled, the communiqué said.

Intense defensive battles were being waged by the Russian defenders against German tanks and mechanized infantry south of fallen Krasnodar, west Caucasus rail center which the high command announced at midnight had been lost to the Nazis.

A column of German infantry was reported surrounded by Russian troops in the Pyatigorsk area of the south central caucasus 140 miles northwest of the Grozny oil fields. On the northern sector of the

U. S. Forces Begin Promised War On World-Wide Front

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.

American, air, sea and land attacks of increasing frequency and intensity against the Axis forces today are tracing out gradually the promise of the U. S. government for a world-wide offensive against Germany, Italy and Japan.

Less than nine months after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, American men and United States war materials are taking a mounting toll of the Axis on virtually every one of the world's fighting fronts.

In the Pacific, land, sea and air forces are pressing the offensive that was launched against the Japanese with the U. S. Marine Corps invasion of the enemy-dominated Solomon and the bombardment of Japanese-occupied Kiska island in the western Aleutians. (Continued On Page Two)

American Bombers Attack Jap Warships In Area Of Solomons

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S Headquarters in Australia, Aug. 20.—American flying fortress bombers, ranging into the Solomon Islands battle area for the first time since United States Marines established positions there, attacked Japanese warships in the vicinity of Faisi, it was disclosed today in a communiqué by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire was encountered during the attack on the enemy warcraft, the communiqué said, but all of the American bombers returned safely. Results of the bombing were not known.

A new attack was carried out at the same time by Allied medium bombers against a Jap-occupied town on the former Dutch-Portuguese Island of Timor. This assault was carried out from low altitude but here again results could not be observed.

The direct assault against the enemy warships in the Solomons extended the activities of United Nations Air forces in the southwest Pacific north of Australia over an area of 3,000 miles.

The Solomons assault marked an increase in United Nations efforts to disperse Japanese forces in the whole southwest Pacific area.

Brisbane, on the east coast of Australia, had an air alert today, the communiqué revealed, but no enemy planes were observed.

Loss of the Australian heavy cruiser Canberra in the Solomon Islands battle was announced simultaneously.

All American Bombers Back After Attack

Reveal Details Of Second American Air Raid On Nazi-Held France

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The performance of American Flying Fortress bombers was hailed today as details of the second all American raid on enemy territory was disclosed.

A flight of 23 Fortresses, each carrying several tons of bombs, dropped their loads within the restricted area of the German fighter plane base at Abbeville during the commando raid on nearby Dieppe. A U. S. air corps communiqué announced.

The bomb release mechanism of the 24th plane failed to function and it jettisoned its load in the channel on the return trip.

As in a previous attack on Rouen all American planes returned to their bases with only minor damage. One operator was slightly injured by splinters from an anti-aircraft shell.

Flying at extremely high altitude the squadron showed uncanny aim, blasting runways, fuel dumps, hangars and dispersal areas of the Nazi airfield. A great pall of smoke hung over the target as the attack ended.

Old Timers Enjoy Reunion Program At Cascade Park

Perfect weather and a congenial crowd combined to make yesterday's Old Timers Day reunion at Cascade park pavilion one of the finest in the 36-year history of these events, and will go down in the memory of many an oldster as just about the finest time they have enjoyed in many a day.

While the crowd may not have been as large as it has for several years past, due to the restrictions placed upon travel these days because of the war, yet most of those present were really old-timers, folks whose ancestors settled Lawrence county, and their descendants, with a sprinkling of the later day folks who came here and established the industries in the 90's, those hardy Welsh settlers who were also pioneers in their line.

The pavilion was opened shortly after noon and at 1 o'clock the crowd began assembling, so that quite a gathering was present when the meeting was called to order at 1:30 o'clock by Fred P. Sankey, the past president, who introduced the new president Richard F. Dana.

After a few brief announcements, President Dana introduced Judge W. Walter Braham, who in his usual fine style, spoke of the propriety of thus gathering together to honor those pioneers and their descendants who had so much to do with the founding of this county, and of carrying on through the trying times which have visited the nation down through the years.

Grand March
Then Chairman Frank H. Robinson, of the floor committee, called the Old Timers to the floor of the pavilion, and the grand march was

Military Experts Cite Big Benefits From Dieppe Raid

By HUGO SPECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.

Military experts today declared that it is impossible to overestimate the importance of the now historic raid on the Dieppe area of the coast of France.

Now that some of the smoke has cleared away from the terrific jolt United Nations forces received in a lightning raid at Hitler's supposedly "impenetrable" channel coast defenses, observers asserted that the attack might well be the forerunner to the turning point in the war.

Cite Advantages

Aside from the political and diplomatic repercussions the raid can be expected to have the advantage of the United Nations, strategists pointed especially to the following military aspects of the attack as being of particular importance.

First, and most important, it is the first large scale raid yet made by the United Nations forces on the channel coast, indicating that the time has arrived when larger and more effective attacks can be expected.

Secondly, it is the first time American, English, Canadian and fighting French land, sea and air forces have participated in a combined attack revealing that a per-

Lawrence county Republicans will open the fall campaign here on Monday afternoon, August 31, when an old fashioned outdoor political rally, replete with roasting ears, hot dogs and coffee will be held in Cascade park. It was announced today.

General Edward Martin, Republican candidate for governor will be the principal speaker.

Plans have been under way for some time but the date was made tentatively until it could be fitted into General Martin's schedule of appearances. Monday August 31, suits his schedule and on that day the Republicans will "kick off" the fall campaign.

Some of the old time glamour of political rallies will be recaptured in the one to be held.

Everything will be free, according to Captain Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the Lawrence county Republican committee.

Edward D. Pritchard has been named chairman of the arrangements committee and tonight in his office on East Washington street a meeting of committee chairmen will be held. At that time the details of the rally will be outlined and the committees will get to work on making the day a success.

Severe Fighting In Streets Of Dieppe

French People On Side-Lines

Allied Commandos And German Forces Had Battles In Streets

THIRTY CIVILIANS REPORTED KILLED

(International News Service)
VICHY, Aug. 20.—Baron Krug von Nidda, German representative to the Vichy French government, disclosed today in an interview with Chief of State Marshal Henri Petain that severe fighting occurred in the streets of Dieppe between Allied and German forces yesterday when Commando units went ashore on the coast of France.

Von Nidda confirmed that numerous fires were started in the port as a result of the attack. Thirty civilians were reported killed and a number of others wounded in the fighting. Von Nidda said, although they did not take an active part.

French People Inactive
This announcement disclosed that the French populace adhered strictly to broadcast pleas by the British not to take part and be subjected to subsequent German reprisals.

Official circles in Vichy insisted that not one French sniper interfered in the engagements. The work of feminine Red Cross members and firemen at Dieppe was termed "heroic."

Reports received in Vichy said that 26 Allied transports made their appearance around the port of Dieppe but the exact number of American, British, Canadian and fighting French troops disembarked was not given.

One report said the Allied forces numbered "no more than one small division." It was asserted that 60 Canadian officers were taken prisoner.

One of the features was an old-fashioned clog dance in which a half dozen old youngsters competed. Let it be said right here that some of the young folks may think something new has been invented with the jitterbug, but the fancy capers these Old Timers executed would leave a lot of these youngsters blushing with shame. They did everything but kick the rafters loose and the floorboards out. When the contest had ended, Harvey E. Newton of Ellwood City, aged 72, was adjudged the winner by popular acclaim and was awarded a cash prize, contributed by Fred L. Renitz, President of The News Company.

Others who participated were J. B. Smith, of 112 Walnut street, 86 years of age; John Booher, Ellwood City, aged 85; James Y. Miller, 336 Logan street, aged 78; Benjamin F. Kennedy, of 2033 Pennsylvania avenue, aged 70 years; and Charles T. Rohrer, of 306 West Lincoln avenue, aged 69 years.

It is doubtful if there have been as many older folks in attendance at recent reunions, either that or the older folks are growing old gracefully. Almost 300 registered at the registration booth presided over by Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor, assisted by Sara Louise Theophilus and Betty Gilson Ryder, from Lyons business school, who typed off the names. And the age of a vast majority of those registered was over the 70 mark. Some of them came quite a distance to get here too. Among the nonagenarians, were Mrs. J. E. McKibben, of New Brighton, aged 92; W. T. Carnes, of Butler avenue, aged 90; while there were scores who were in their 80's and many, many more in their 70's.

President Richard E. Dana expressed his appreciation at the fine turnout and the splendid cooperation of all his committees who assisted in making yesterday's reunion the splendid success it turned out to be, and is looking forward to another successful event next year.

correspondents who accompanied the raiders. These included Laurence G. (Larry) Moser, formerly of Stockton, Calif., a member of the London staff of International News Service who was wounded by shrapnel in the face and chest.

Meier returned to London this afternoon from his place of disembarkation on the coast. His uniform bedraggled and bloody, he went to a hospital for removal of the shrapnel from his chest after writing his eyewitness story of the Dieppe battle, which at the time had not been released for publication by the censors.

Meier's colleagues who made the perilous journey across the channel in the face of German guns and planes related that he carried on with his assignment despite his wounds.

Raid Is Success
Despite the official efforts to maintain secrecy, something could not be hidden as the American, British, Canadian and Fighting French troops came back home, many of them wounded, almost exhausted, but every last man of them overjoyed at success of the undertaking.

Among them as they looted through the streets of coastal towns, their uniforms torn, bloody and bedraggled, were easily recognized Nazi prisoners, including a number of officers.

They were marched away to the camps, all of them bareheaded and with their eyes banded for the sake of British security.

Some were in the ordinary German field uniform while others wore fishermen's blue jerseys and dun-colored pants. It was considered likely many Nazi troops on the coast adopted this disguise in the hope of palming themselves off as peaceful Frenchmen to the invading commandos.

Wounded Into Army
Among the prisoners was a Dutchman who said that he was included in a "draft" of reinforcements brought up to the French coast by the Germans. He said that he was forced into the German army but at the first opportunity gave himself up to the attacking Allied forces.

Canadian troops quickly improvised barbed-wire compounds for the prisoners, where they were held for a few hours and then marched to the railway station for transfer to a regular prison camp.

One Canadian officer said: "They gave in and came along quietly."

"It was something of a surprise. We thought they'd fight to the last."

"The 'mastermen' are supposed to, aren't they?"

Hardly one of the commandos returned without a souvenir. Those who had prisoners were cocks of the walk along the British coast. But almost everyone had a helmet, a luger, a German tank or some other memento of battle.

Coast Blazes Anew
The invasion coast of France blazed anew in the early hours of the morning when the crack of gunfire reverberated across the channel from the vicinity of Calais.

Short bursts of gunfire from the direction of Calais resounded across the Dover Straits area at 2 a. m. The sky was lit by white flares.

Squadrons of Spitfires and Hurricanes swept back and forth across the channel during the morning to provide a perfect air cover as the last of the wounded British commandos and Canadian forces were brought ashore.

Power-driven barges and other vessels continued to return members of the raiding party throughout the night. Some of the wounded were placed in a hospital train drawn up in the harbor while others were taken to a quayside dance hall converted into a casualty clearing station. Canadian army doctors and orderlies attended to the wounded taken into the dance hall.

Royal air force fighter planes began patrolling the straits area at dawn.

Guage For Invasion
The successful landing yesterday of heavily armed allied commando forces on the coast of France was expected to serve as a guage in setting the date for a full blown invasion of the German occupied continent.

The "miniature invasion" during which American, British, Canadian and fighting French forces remained ashore for nine hours to batter Nazi installations pointed up the vulnerability of the German coastal defenses.

A summation by allied commanders of results of the raid, its cost in men and equipment and the damage they were able to inflict on the enemy, undoubtedly will go far in determining how soon a major offensive can be launched on the continent.

By far the largest assault ever undertaken by commando units and the greatest battle to take place on the European continent since the fall of France, the Dieppe raid provided United Nations war leaders with invaluable information concerning the preparations made by the Nazis to ward off attack and shed light on Germany's ability to mobilize its garrisons along the French coast.

Troops Return
The commando operation, the first ever carried out in daylight, was concluded by the withdrawal of all returning troops according to schedule.

Full details of the destruction done by the commandos was anxiously awaited everywhere. This much was known:

A six-gun artillery battery employed by the Germans to hurl shells across the English channel was destroyed along with an ammunition dump. A radio location station and an anti-aircraft battery were put out of action.

Probably even more significant was the destruction of German aircraft. A total of 191 Nazi planes were shot down or damaged out of an estimated defense force of 500 based in northern France and Belgium.

It was disclosed that 98 allied planes were missing as a result of assault but 30 pilots were rescued. A number of these craft were to form a protective umbrella for the land forces while the majority of the Nazi losses were inflicted in dog fights.

Loss to the Nazis of an estimated third of their fighter planes in the area was expected to drain German air strength on other fronts since the invasion effort Hitlerites could not afford to risk a serious depletion of air defenses.

Members of the raiding party continued to return to English ports long into the night after they re-embarked at the conclusion of the Dieppe sortie.

They came ashore from power-driven seagoing barges which they were met by cheering Britons who rushed from houses to greet them with food and drinks. The commandos, grimy and tired looking, sang cheerfully as they came in to land. They were transferred to trucks and driven away from the harbor area.

At one landing point on the south coast 14 trucks and three buses carried the commandos inland. Hospital trains arrived to pick up those who were wounded.

Says Industry Will Use More Women, Boys

(International News Service)

DENVER—Greater use of boys and women in war industry is predicted by L. A. West, director of the United States Employment Service in Colorado.

The number of skilled and semi-skilled workers has dropped so alarmingly that it will become increasingly necessary to draw on teen-age labor sources, West said.

The file of applicants with 28 local employment offices in Colorado has slid to approximately 37,000 workers, nearly half of the average monthly total for the past year, despite intensive efforts, he said.

To offset the labor shortage, especially on farms, West said Denver high schools will supply thousands of workers and the part-time service of five in-school co-ordinators to aid the employment service through the Occupational Adjustment Center.

West said Colorado's "youth army" is well prepared to meet the labor shortage but stressed that the need arises a voluntary registration of women might be undertaken.

Nazis On Defensive
Thirdly, and equally important, it is the first time the Germans have been on the other end of the stick, as it were, and made to feel the sting of attack where the allies have chosen the time, place and strength of the attack.

Fourthly, the losses inflicted on the enemy both in lives and the destruction of defenses and materials.

Fifthly, as already underlined by the combined operations headquarters command issued in London, valuable combat experience was gained by troops participating in the attack.

Sixthly, it gave the United Nations a chance to test some of their new equipment under actual combat conditions such as tank landing craft which were used for the first time in the United Nations' attack.

Seventhly, it gave the strength troops a chance to test the strength of coastal defenses, methods used in defending strongly fortified positions, amount of air resistance and moves behind the point of combat which the Nazis immediately take to drive off such an attack.

While these are listed as the most important, analysts declare there are scores of other important aspects of such a raid which will contribute valuable information and aid to the United Nations in launching future raids anywhere along the channel coast.

In the European theater, specially trained American assault troops known as Rangers fought Germans in land combat for the first time since World War I when U. S. soldiers participated in a large scale raid on the Nazi-held coast of France near Dieppe.

Commando Assault
While American pilots in U. S. planes have raided German-held territory in Europe several times, this nation's forces participated as a fighting unit.

On the Egyptian front and over the Mediterranean, American airmen for months have been blasting Axis ships, planes and troops on a mounting scale, and must be expected that in the near future U. S. ground troops will see action somewhere on the African front.

American airmen also have been doing a good job of blasting Japanese bases in China from airfields in the interior and there is no doubt that the general war plan includes another attack upon Japan as soon as possible. Recently Japanese broadcast have been warning their public of just such action.

In Australia, forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur have played an important part in preventing a Japanese invasion of that southwest Pacific continent, and recently airmen based in that area have been aiding naval forces battling to oust the Japanese from the Solomons.

No News From Solomons
There has been no official news from the Solomons since the navy reported last Monday results of successful action against the enemy in the Guadalcanal-Tulagi area up to Aug. 9.

It was presumed, however, that U. S. marines and possibly reinforcements since then have been consolidating and preparing for new thrusts as well as anticipated Japanese counter-blows.

That U. S. naval forces are on guard against the Japanese thrust on the Pacific was indicated in the latest navy communique which stated that a U. S. submarine had sunk another enemy warship in the western Aleutians either a destroyer or a cruiser.

This was the first report of action in the Alaskan area since U. S. fleet units blasted enemy positions on the invaded American island of Kiska Aug. 8-9. However, it indicated that U. S. forces are in that area and that they strike whenever the opportunity arises.

The feeling in official Washington appeared to be that military events will move rapidly from now on with U. S. forces playing greater and greater roles during the coming months.

Don-Caucasus front the Russians continued to inflict heavy casualties on the Germans. In the Voronezh area, the high command said, 5,500 Germans were killed in the last few days in Russian counter-attacks on the west bank of the Don.

Krasnodar Falls
Fall of Krasnodar, announced in the midnight Soviet communique, gave the Germans control of the rail line to the Black sea naval base of Novorossisk. Krasnodar is within 60 miles of the port.

Heavy fighting raged also on the southern sector of the Stalingrad front in the vicinity of Kotelnikovo. The Moscow radio said that the Russians had repulsed a simultaneous attack by 100 tanks and 70 airplanes on one sector of the Klets-kaya front. An inhabited locality was said to have been recaptured and 2,000 Germans slain in two days of stubborn fighting which still continues.

Fighting inside the Don elbow in the area northeast of Kleketa was unabated fury as Nazi Field Marshal Fedor von Bock attacked relentlessly in his effort to drive to the west bank of the river.

The Nazis also were exerting great pressure on the southern arm of the Stalingrad pincers with unceasing attacks in the sector northeast of Kotelnikovo. Here the German battalion which succeeded in breaking through the Soviet lines was completely destroyed.

Mostly Held In Check
As the Red army held the enemy in check on all fronts but Krasnodar, details of Tuesday night's bombing raids on East Prussia were announced in Moscow. The Soviet air force pounded Koenigsberg, nearby Tilsit and Danzig, leaving great fires burning in all places.

Berlin reported the Russians on the offensive on the Bryanskaya front to the north, and claimed its armies were continuing to advance in the Caucasus despite a slowing down due to encountering heavy minefields.

A new flare-up on the Leningrad front was reported today by the Moscow radio which said two German battalions had been routed when Red army forces stormed an enemy-held strong point. The Germans opened a heavy fire and then counter-attacked in an effort to regain the captured position.

The German attacks failed and they retreated, leaving 800 dead on the field.

BRITISH FARMERS BUSY
(International News Service)
LONDON—"We've got to first win the war on the home-front" has become the slogan for Britain's farms this year. Shipping must be reserved for munitions and troops to make possible a second front in Europe. And Britain's farmers have pledged to do their part in feeding the troops and civilians now in the British Isles.

The word slave originally referred to Slavs taken by Germans in war.

In the European theater, specially trained American assault troops known as Rangers fought Germans in land combat for the first time since World War I when U. S. soldiers participated in a large scale raid on the Nazi-held coast of France near Dieppe.

Commando Assault
While American pilots in U. S. planes have raided German-held territory in Europe several times, this nation's forces participated as a fighting unit.

On the Egyptian front and over the Mediterranean, American airmen for months have been blasting Axis ships, planes and troops on a mounting scale, and must be expected that in the near future U. S. ground troops will see action somewhere on the African front.

American airmen also have been doing a good job of blasting Japanese bases in China from airfields in the interior and there is no doubt that the general war plan includes another attack upon Japan as soon as possible. Recently Japanese broadcast have been warning their public of just such action.

In Australia, forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur have played an important part in preventing a Japanese invasion of that southwest Pacific continent, and recently airmen based in that area have been aiding naval forces battling to oust the Japanese from the Solomons.

No News From Solomons
There has been no official news from the Solomons since the navy reported last Monday results of successful action against the enemy in the Guadalcanal-Tulagi area up to Aug. 9.

It was presumed, however, that U. S. marines and possibly reinforcements since then have been consolidating and preparing for new thrusts as well as anticipated Japanese counter-blows.

That U. S. naval forces are on guard against the Japanese thrust on the Pacific was indicated in the latest navy communique which stated that a U. S. submarine had sunk another enemy warship in the western Aleutians either a destroyer or a cruiser.

This was the first report of action in the Alaskan area since U. S. fleet units blasted enemy positions on the invaded American island of Kiska Aug. 8-9. However, it indicated that U. S. forces are in that area and that they strike whenever the opportunity arises.

The feeling in official Washington appeared to be that military events will move rapidly from now on with U. S. forces playing greater and greater roles during the coming months.

included reports of department officials and committees, and election of delegates and alternates for the national convention.

Need Straight Facts
Stambaugh, at a pre-convention banquet last night, urged Legionnaires and others to temper their war criticisms with tolerance, but added that give the public more straight-from-the-shoulder facts and "less hot air."

"We are pretty dogmatised tired of being told one day that there is plenty of synthetic rubber in sight."

SUB CREW KEEPS BOX SCORE ON HITS

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES—An improvised "listening device" by which sailors who man the navy's "big boys" keep a box score on torpedo hits was revealed today by Robert Gordon Wheeler, 28-year-old machinist's mate first class, home on leave after six months' submarine service in Oriental waters.

When a torpedo is discharged, a slight shiver runs through the submarine. Wheeler explained. Then the engine room "black gang" whip out screwdrivers and push them against nearby beams.

If, moments later, they feel the beam "shudder" through the screwdrivers, they know the torpedo has found its mark in an enemy vessel.

While many of the world's ancient buildings are being destroyed in the war, many of the United States landmarks have been completely measured and recorded so that reconstruction would be possible in the event of enemy damage, the department of interior reports.

Junior Commandos Sell War Stamps Like Hot Cakes

East Side Youngsters Dispose Of Over $35 Worth Of Stamps In Two Hours

With the example of Little Orphan Annie and her Junior Commandos, whose exploits thrill thousands of youngsters each evening in The News, before them, a group of East Side youngsters decided that they could be just as useful, in the all-out war effort as Annie and her pals, so they put the matter up to Mrs. Catherine Jackamo Christoforo, who encouraged them in their idea, made them arm bands with a big V for victory, and financed the purchase of war savings stamps.

The first evening the kiddies started out under the direction of Capt. Eddie Roberts they disposed of $38 worth of stamps, and they are aiming to get rid of $100 worth before the week is over.

Those comprising this unique organization are Eddie Roberts, captain; Billy Roberts, Mary Jo Roberts, Carlotta May Christoforo, Anna May Ventuerella, Richard Vorhees, Mary Louise and Betty Beck, Richard Neumth, Donald Harrison, Tommy Gilkey, Danny Cassella and Donna DeMark. They hope to recruit as many more youngsters in the effort in the next few days.

No doubt their example will be followed by other Junior Commandos, also eager to help win this war as quickly as possible.

STAFF SERGEANT CARRIES GUIDON, BUT NEVER AGAIN

(International News Service)
FOSTER FIELD, Victoria, Texas.—When Colonel Warren Carter, commanding officer of Foster Field, held his last review before leaving for a new post, it marked the end of an era for Staff Sergeant Jack Kramer.

Despite a swift rise from buck private to staff sergeant, Kramer had never realized a consuming ambition—to carry the squadron guidon at the head of marching troops. When his squadron lined up for the march to the parade ground, he realized it was now or never.

Seizing the blue guidon from a corporal, he disdainfully waved off the respectful intimation that a few instructions would be helpful.

The command to march was given. Kramer stepped forward with a

Delay Erection Of New State Mansion

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 20.—Instead of a state new home for Pennsylvania's chief executives, chickens and passing tourists will continue to occupy the land on which the state had hoped to erect a new executive mansion, it was disclosed today.

Howard W. Fry, secretary to the general state authority, which was charged by the legislature last year with constructing a new mansion, said that because of the war negotiations to acquire the last piece of land needed for the mansion had "bogged down."

"We still hope to obtain it," said Fry, "but it doesn't look as though anything further will be done until after the present emergency."

Two of the three tracts of land needed for the mansion have already been acquired at a total cost of $185,000, but the state has been unable to induce two elderly sisters who own the third piece of land to sell it. Chickens are raised on the land and tourists accommodated in the large house there.

Even if the state were able to acquire the land, said Fry, the mansion could not be built now because of priorities on construction materials. In view of this, he added, the two large residences on the land already purchased will be used to house state departments. One of the buildings is now being used by the new state parole board and the general state authority is expected to move into the other one soon.

Paul P. Cret, Philadelphia architect, who was chosen by the general state authority to draw up the plans for the new mansion, estimated its cost at $750,000. Tentative plans were drawn up but no formal action on them was ever taken by the authority board.

The new mansion would front the Susquehanna river, some distance north of the present second-hand brownstone building which has housed Pennsylvania's governors since the close of the Civil War. The mansion was originally a private home which the state converted into a governor's residence. Gov. Arthur H. James once termed it "a big barn."

The fortunes of war being what they are, Pennsylvania's next governor, whether Auditor General P. Clair Ross or Major General Edward Martin, will now have to make the best of it.

SALVAGED BRITISH SUB NOW HAS A BRILLIANT RECORD

(International News Service)
LONDON — The British submarine Thunderbolt, formerly the Thetis, which sank and carried 99 men to death during its trial runs in Liverpool Bay in 1939, has just returned to a British port after more than a year of successful actions at sea.

Five months after she went to the bottom in 1939 the Thetis was salvaged. Later she was put into service under her new name.

At the end of her most recent voyage the Thunderbolt's "Jolly Roger" recorded destruction of two enemy U-boats and five supply ships. Its markings also told the story of six bombardments and gun actions against enemy positions — one of which was an Italian fortress.

In addition, the Thunderbolt saved 43 merchant seamen from death in the Mediterranean.

The submarine is commanded by Lieut. Commander Cecil B. Crouch. Men of the British Navy call him "Lucky" Crouch.

He left the British submarines Seahorse and Swordfish shortly before each was lost.

Little Hope For 600 Missing In German Sub Attacks

Brazil Fears None Survive

Ships Were Torpedoed Close To Shore By Nazi U. Boats

SEVERAL SUBS BELIEVED LOST

By VICTOR HAWKINS (International News Service)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 20.—Little hope was held today for the 600 persons missing from five Brazilian coastwise vessels sunk by Axis submarines in recent raids south of the "bulge." Officials pointed out that the ships were torpedoed close to shore and that sufficient time has passed since the sinkings for any survivors to reach port.

Latest reports accounted for fewer than 100 survivors from the lost vessels which included one troop transport enroute from southern Brazil to Natal.

But patrol planes were vigilant over the area of the attacks, on the alert for survivors as well as Axis submarines. American, British and Brazilian planes were reported participating in the hunt for the enemy raiders.

Several U-Boats Attacked
A compilation of reports from various sources, which may have been overlapping, indicated several U-boats have been attacked with depth bombs and two probably destroyed.

Members of an Axis submarine crew were reported tonight to have attempted a landing on the north shore of Brazil. Fishermen reported sighting the surfaced submarine and seeing several men launch a rubber boat.

But they hastily reembarked when they discovered they were observed and the submarine immediately submerged, the report said.

A police order has banned all demonstrations beginning today. The order was accompanied by the announcement that "now is the time for the government to take calm action."

The order cancelling army leaves, it was explained officially, cannot be considered to have any bearing on the recent attacks as the order was issued some weeks ago—before the latest sinkings that aroused intense public anger and led to a series of demonstrations.

Despite orders establishing a 10 p. m. curfew and other police measures to prevent violent outbreaks, depredations continued against Axis nationals. Crowds were reported to have attacked German shops, restaurants and other establishments, although most Axis-owned places closed several days ago when the public temper first flared up.

Victory Aides At New Castle Hospital

Under the direction of Mrs. Anna Mae Kelly, chairman for the Victory Aides of the New Castle hospital, many local women have volunteered their services in less than three months, to assist in the numerous duties at the hospital.

Numerous requests had come from New Castle women citizens that they might volunteer their services in caring for hospital patients. Mrs. Kelly, presided at a meeting of 35 volunteers in May and Sister M. Aniceta, director of nurses, addressed the audience on the significance of "Volunteer Services in Hospitals."

"Prior to inaugurating a 'Volunteer Program' one must weigh in a balance the need of such workers, and the quality of results that accrue from such service. Factors to be considered include physical, spiritual, ethical and cultural values. Persons selected must manifest qualities of physique and character that denote strength of body, mind and soul."

The name "Victory Aides" was selected by the workers. Within a period of three months, twenty-five Victory Aides have rendered 500 hours of service to the sick. Many additional hours have been utilized in the preparation of dressings and materials for use in the hospital. Instruction of Victory Aides is conducted by members of the school faculty. The following persons are at present serving or are enrolled for instruction preparatory to serving in the hospital.

The work of this group of citizens is a definite indication of the spirit of the citizens of New Castle in the Civilian Defense program.

City Youth Saved From Plane Death By Ice Cream Bar

Sergt. Broschart Spared By Fate From Flaming Bomb-er Crash

His love for an ice cream bar probably saved 19-year-old Sergt. Joseph Broschart from death in the flaming crash of a multi-motored Army bomber at Hastings, Mich., last Friday night, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fridolin Broschart, of Boston avenue, learned today.

Young Joseph wrote that he had been scheduled to make the trip with eight buddies from the Willow Run airport near Ypsilanti, Mich., but that fate took him to a confecti- nery and he missed the tragic flight. All nine aboard were killed.

"You can say an ice cream bar saved my life," he told his parents here.

Sergt. Broschart, who joined the Army 14 months ago, is attached to a bombardment squadron at the Willow Run field.

A pal, Corp. Ernest L. Prather, of Schoolfield, Va., and one of nine killed, had asked Sergt. Broschart to substitute for him on the fateful flight. Corp. Prather was to have been married the following day, and he wanted to meet his fiancée in Detroit.

The local youth agreed to take his post, but explained that he wanted to get the ice cream bar first. It was agreed and Sergt. Broschart left, and then returned to find the ship gone.

Sergt. Broschart is an aerial engineer and has been at Willow Run only a short time.

Thousands Of Ranger Troops To Be Trained

By HUGO SPECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The War Department today announced that thousands of "ranger" type troops will be trained in American army camps by the Yankee officers and men who participated in the smashing commando raid on the French port of Dieppe this week.

Undersecretary of War Patterson revealed that the veterans of the Dieppe raid will return to the United States to give special instruction to future rangers at a camp near Helena, Mont., and at Camp Edwards, Mass.

"We have troops detailed to the British to get special training and experience and to pass it on to soldiers in our army," Patterson said at a press conference.

Canadian troops will be trained in ranger and commando tactics at the Montana camp. At Camp Edwards amphibious maneuvers will be emphasized.

Patterson said that the training of American rangers in camps in England and Ireland also would be continued. He declined to name the number of rangers that would be brought back as instructors nor to give any detailed figures on the full complement of ranger forces to be created.

AIR FORCE NEEDS MORE SPECIALISTS

Volunteers Urged To Join Corps Immediately, Bilpuch Says

Keeping Uncle Sam's war planes in flying—and fighting—condition is the Army Air Force's vital job these days, and mechanics, technicians and other specialists are needed immediately, Sergt. John T. Bilpuch announced today, after Pittsburgh offices stressed the need of volunteers.

"If you can qualify, come in and enlist, for the nation needs you," the army recruiting chief said.

Any man who can qualify as an auto mechanic, motor man, gunsmith, instrument repairman, motor repairman, sheet metal worker, pattern maker, locksmith, watch or clock repairman, electrician, welder, jeweler, radio repairman and/or operator may enlist in these air force classifications. Aircraft mechanic, aircraft armorer, aircraft radio mechanic, aircraft radio operator, aircraft metal worker and aircraft welder.

Flash Floods Costly To State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 20.—The State Department of Highways has estimated that it will be necessary to spend more than $2,341,000 to repair roads and approximately 150 bridges seriously damaged or destroyed in the flash floods that have swept the state in the past two months, Secretary I. Lamont Hughes said today.

Approximately $1,289,000 has been earmarked for highway repairs and $1,052,000 for constructing temporary bridges, said Hughes. He pointed out that the department was forced to build temporary bridges because it was impossible in most instances to obtain construction steel under the rigid priority system. After the damaging floods that swept Pennsylvania in 1936, Hughes said, the department spent approximately $3,200,000 for repair work.

Columbia, South America, lies 2-065 miles south of New York, 610 miles nearer to the Statue of Liberty than San Francisco.

Telephone Users Cooperate During Blackout Tuesday

Use Of Phones Jumps Considerably After Test Was Over, Baldwin Points Out

In discussing Tuesday night's test air raid, Paul J. Baldwin, district manager for the Bell Telephone company, stated that the volume of traffic during the one-half hour blackout period indicated public cooperation in refraining from unnecessary calling.

"Immediately after the sounding of the all clear signal, however," Mr. Baldwin pointed out, "the volume of telephone traffic was considerably above normal. This indicates that the public does not realize that the urgent need for keeping telephone lines open for emergency calls does not end with the sounding of the all clear signal. All the forces of public safety would need clear communication channels for some time after a real raid in order to route essential aid and equipment to damaged areas."

"That is why the Army and the civilian defense organization stress the request that no non-essential telephone calls be made, not only during an air raid warning period, but for some time afterward. The purpose of these tests is to train the defense organization and the public for the possibility of a real raid. For that reason it is in the best interests of the safety of everyone to regard every air raid test as the real thing."

Young Progressives Plans Formal Dance

At the meeting held on Wednesday evening by the Young Progressives organization, a formal dance was planned to be held during the month of September.

Following business, a social time was held, and those on the committee in charge included: Mary Bertolino, Vera Vincent, Mrs. Marshall Ruscetti and Louise Mancino. President Joseph Cozza was in charge, and the meeting adjourned until September 6.

KIWANIS PICNIC
The annual picnic of the New Wilmington Kiwanis club was held recently in lieu of their regular meeting. About 45 Kiwanians and their wives and children were in attendance. A fine dinner was served by the ladies of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist church.

President Russell C. Sewall announced that the state convention of Kiwanis, to be held late this month will last one day instead of the usual three, and has been moved from Philadelphia to Harrisburg. A local delegate will be elected at the club's next meeting.

After the dinner, a sports program was run off, in charge of Tom Jones.

BLACKOUT TEST REPORT
Unnecessary telephone calls were the only violations of defense rules during the blackout Tuesday in New Wilmington, Wallace McKean, head of the local control room, reports.

Mr. McKean reports that all civilian defense groups worked smoothly and efficiently in the Tuesday test. "For the first time since this work started," he stated, "all groups worked like a well-oiled machine."

"I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN WHEN YOU SAY ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN"

HOMES AND FARMS served by Pennsylvania Power Company enjoy electricity at prices among the lowest in the state. This is a dollars-and-cents saving to every user. It means not only savings in money—but also the ability to enjoy the service in more ways with economy.

Besides buying your electricity at prices that compare favorably with any locality in the state—these prices are now about half what they used to be. So what? — it means with low prices, customers are using three times the amount of electricity as, say, in 1922. But there has been a 46% drop in the average price per kilowatt hour during that time, so the average monthly bill for three times the use is only 4 1/2 cents a day more.

You in your own home know how much more you and your neighbors are doing with electricity, what with better light for your eyes, the pleasure of radio, the savings of refrigeration and the like.

In these days when we must all watch living costs—your electric service more than ever is "a bargain in better living."

DEPOSIT FOR COAT HANGER IS LIKELY NOW

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20.—The coat hanger you carry away from the dry cleaners may cost you from a penny to five cents from now on.

Price administrator Leon Henderson announced today that dry cleaners and laundries may require a reasonable deposit of from one to five cents to assure return of hangers used in delivering finished garments.

Henderson said the step was necessary because manufacture of wire coat hangers has been stopped to conserve steel.

Horse Prices Rise To Highest Level In Recent Years

(International News Service)
Greeley, Colo.—Farmers who have continued to raise horses during recent years despite the automobile infiltration into the functions of "Old Dobbin" are reaping financial rewards for remaining faithful to man's four-footed friend. Prices being paid for horses are considerably higher than at any time in the last few years and continue to increase, Sam King, a leading auctioneer of Colorado's rich northern farming area, said today. He based his opinion on prices paid at public sales.

King added that attendance at auctions over which he has presided has more than doubled in the last year. Within the last few weeks, he said, the prices of horses at these auctions have increased an average of $25 per head for old work horses of approximately 1,500 pounds, some of the animals bringing as much as $130. Well-matched teams have sold as high as $300.

Blood mares that could be picked up for $25 each a few months ago are now being double that price, with demand good, according to King.

There also has been heavy demand from the East for horses to be used on milk delivery wagons, he added.

Short Honeymoon

Sign of the times is the brevity of Mrs. Virginia Peterson's honeymoon. It lasted less than an hour, not because the newlyweds got into a dispute so soon, but because the bride had to get to her job at Lockheed Aircraft corporation. Winning the war comes before honeymoons for Mrs. Peterson, pictured above. They were wed at San Luis Obispo, Cal.

News Briefs From City Hall

Chief of detectives R. A. Criswell and John G. Moore today took into custody two boys who reportedly robbed the Forrest gasoline service station of $27.00. They were being quizzed at detective headquarters.

City council has authorized the employment of an architect to prepare plans, and superintend construction of a warehouse for the city departments of sewers and streets. As yet it has not been definitely established the structure will be built in Taylor street. A decision will come within a day or more.

City council met today in the city building and authorized the construction of two driveways, larger than specified by ordinance, at the Conn and Pennsylvania Power company properties in South Croton avenue. An ordinance making the exception will be passed to cover the situation. Poles must be hauled into the power company yard.

B. & O. Railroad Superintendent J. Edwards today asked council to exempt the B. & O. P. R. R. road share (now owned by the B. & O. R. R. from a share in the cost of painting the Mahoning avenue viaduct. He said the B. & O. P. R. R. share is a concrete section of the viaduct. Council will investigate the claim.

Public Safety Director D. O. Davies who is also the head of the city civilian defense organization stated today that, in the future a black-out means exactly what it implies and warned no excuses will be offered by persons who leave their homes unoccupied with lights burning. Only in one or two cases, such as where the entire house was illuminated was an arrest made. In the future no light can show outside. "We're in war and no excuses for carelessness will be acceptable in the future" he reiterated.

J. E. Turner, 201 Winter avenue, an investigator for Old Age pensions took a fainting spell yesterday afternoon and fell at 437 East Washington street. Police Chief W. G. McMullen, other officers and firemen with the fire department ambulance responded. The man was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

When council met this morning in city hall it was agreed to settle two liens providing claims are paid within 30 days. They concerned C. Ed. Smith III, regarding a paving lien at 2402 Highland avenue amounting to $214.12 and also Mrs. Pearl E. Bingham, for a similar lien at 606 Pearson street, amounting to $172.33.

Attorney Edwin K. Logan, counsel for Antonia Bober today told city council in session at city hall that he had offered the commissioners of Lawrence county $900 for a property at 1895 Hanna street. It is assessed at $2,000 and there is $1,109.25 assessed due. The county commissioners, he explained were willing to sell provided the consent of the school district and city council was obtained. The property is assessed in the name of Mary Belle Stunkard. Council will view the property.

A Flying Fortress is to America's air fleet what heavy artillery is to the Army. This gigantic four-motored bomber, equipped with heavy cannon, carries about three tons of bombs and reaches a speed of about 300 miles an hour.

These ships carry a crew of seven to nine men, weigh about 22½ tons, have a wing spread of 105 feet and each motor develops 1,000 horsepower. We need more of these "Flying Fortresses" to compete with the Nazi air force. You can help by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Brooklyn Squashes Braves Under Avalanche Of 19 Hits; Cooper Nabs 15th

TIGERS, ATHLETICS ON WINNING SIDE

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Brooklyn's slumping Dodgers had swung back into high gear today as they prepared to meet the resurgent third-place Giants in what may prove to be their sternest test of the season. Now leading St. Louis by 6½ games, the Dodgers must get by the hot Ottomans to leave for their western trip—they open in St. Louis Tuesday—with any degree of certainty of safety.

Slashing out 19 hits, with every man on the team getting at least one safe blow, the Dodgers routed Boston yesterday, 11 to 1. Curt Davis had no trouble in moving to his 13th mound victory, with the Dodgers lambasting the assorted offerings of Salvo, Javery, Donovan and Sain.

Eddie Miller's home run in the second frame deprived Davis of a shutout. Pittsburgh amassed eight runs—no, we ain't spoofing—in the sixth inning to swamp Cincinnati, now trailing the Giants by 5½ games for third place honors in the National league, by a 9 to 2 count. Hank Gornicki went the distance for the Pirates with Paul Derringer being credited with the Red's loss.

The St. Louis Cardinals pushed their way up to within 6½ games of the Brooklyn Dodgers when they trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5 to 1. Credit for the game went to Mort Cooper who pitched his 15th victory of the season.

Yanks-Boston Split
In the American league, New York split with Boston. The Red Sox won the opener, 6 to 4, with Jim Tabor, cleaving two home runs and Ted Williams hitting his 26th of the season. Spud Chandler, one of the Yankees' ace hurlers, injured his back throwing to second base in the fifth inning of the first game and will be lost to the league leaders for an indefinite period.

Ernie Bonham won his 15th victory in the nightcap when Charley Keller slammed his 21st home run in the ninth inning to break up the ball game.

Detroit whipped Cleveland, 6 to 1, behind six-hit pitching by Virgil Trucks. Rudy York blasted a home run in the fourth frame for the Tigers with two mates riding on the sacks. Bob Harris, connected for the Tigers in the eighth, the round-tripper coming with none on.

Eager Wolf hurled for the Philadelphia Athletics and pitched shutout ball when he blanked the Washington Senators 8 to 0. In a wild series of 12 hits, the Athletics knocked two pitchers out of the Senators' box.

Kovach Advances In Golf Tourney

Pittsburgh Athlete, Well Known Here, In Semi-Finals Of Chicago Event

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Sandy-haired Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., former Western amateur champion, today met Mike Stolarik of Great Lakes Naval Training station, in the 36-hole semi-final round of the Chicago National Amateur golf tournament.

The other semi-final match, contested over the Knollwood Country club layout, brought together Steve Kovach of Pittsburgh, ex-Pennsylvania amateur king, and Frank Kovach of Chicago.

Wehrle conquered two opponents in yesterday's schedule to get himself a berth in today's play. After defeating Ray Bowen of Park Ridge, Ill., 2 up, in the morning, Wehrle bounced back in the afternoon to vanquish Louis Esposito of Chicago, 1 up, in a quarter-final match that went 20 holes.

But it was Kovach, the 29-year-old Chicagoan, who provided the most sensational game of the amateur meet up to the present. He fired a six-under-par 67 that tied the course record in the quarter-finals and sent Manuel de la Torres, member of the Northwestern university golf squad, to the sidelines by a 4 and 3 count.

Steve Kovach, one of Pennsylvania's leading simon-pure, disposed of Chicago's Art Doering Jr., former Trans-Mississippi titleholder, 2 and 1, in the second upset of the same round.

North Hill Ramblers, with Rhodes in splendid form, crowned the strong Gus' team last night at Colonial field by a score of 2-1. Rhodes permitting but two hits. He also shared honors at bat with Preston, each having two bingles apiece. Erce also had a double. This was a Legion league game.

Winner, H. Liebenborfer, Campbell, and Vargo led the hitting attack of the winners. The Dodgers are now safely in first place in the Legion league with 9 wins and but 1 defeat. Friday evening they play West Side Pirates at Lee avenue.

Moose Pad Lead In Sylvan Heights Golf League Race

League Leaders Now Three Full Points Ahead Of Second Place Pair

Last week, Timmy Lombardo had a snappy 35, one under par, which failed to be mentioned.

Lyons Hopes To Don Khaki Uniform Soon

Vet White Sox Hurler Takes Exams; Placed In 1-A Group Immediately

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Ted Lyons, who has pitched the Chicago White Sox to 255 victories, hoped today he soon would be able to don a khaki uniform.

The veteran hurler took his physical examination at a Chicago draft board yesterday, and the findings will be forwarded to his home town in Vinton, Ia. Lyons, who is 41 and single, was placed in 1-A immediately after his draft registration. The draft board apparently had beaten Lyons to enlistment, for last spring he remarked he would "like to get a crack at the Japs" as soon as the baseball season was over.

Typewriter melody in short measure:

Efforts will soon be made to shift the scene of the Carnegie Tech-Westminster college football game from New Wilmington to Taggart stadium. The district classic is a Saturday, October 3, daylight billing. Titan officials hope to get the "green light" from moguls in charge of the Cunningham avenue sports palace.

As football coach at East Liverpool High, A. Gerald Capezzutti, who resigned a similar post at Bessemer, will draw down $1,785 and an additional $600 for serving as physical education head. The 30-year-old localite, whose Bessemer teams won 32 clashes, lost seven and were deadlocked only three times, was given a one-year contract.

A pair of former Shenango Township High football aces, Howard and Norman Currie, loom as two of Geneva college's key men. Howard, a 250-pound performer, fills a tackle slot with little to be desired. His brother may be converted into an end.

City League Foes Bat Away Tonight

Moose Entertains Indies; Determined Slovaks Play Host To Bessemer

City Baseball league foes pick up their bats again tonight for another session which promises to produce plenty of action on four diamonds.

Well on their way to a clean sweep of both ends of the race, the Moose entertain the Lawrence Indies on Marshall field. With nine more brawls on their card, the leaders lack a few more triumphs of clinching the rayon flag.

Determined to get back in the race, the Slovaks take the field against Bessemer on new Mahoning field. The Slovaks lost ground last night by dropping a nod to Croton. Bessemer is practically out of the running, now sharing the cellar berth with the Indies.

Elders Vs. West Pittsburgh
In a major encounter, the Elders and West Pittsburgh fire away on West Pittsburgh field. The Elders are pressing the Slovaks for second place honors and could move into th eberth by conquering the "Gas-house Gang" and providing the Slovaks bite the dust.

Croton finds Ellwood City on its calling list on Cascade field. The Ellwoodians, boasting of six wins and six losses, still entertain championship thoughts. Croton has a similar record.

All games start at 6 o'clock.

LEAGUE DUST
Joe O'Leary today announced that the Elders will meet on Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Marshall field clubhouse. He urges all members to be present.

The second half race ends on Thursday, September 3. If the Moose continue their present pace a play-off will be unnecessary.

Walt Ringer, Moose official, predicted today his favorite team will clinch the title within the next few games.

Croton Subdues Slovaks A. C., 9-6

Winners Cross Plate Six Times In Second; Stone Is Triumphant Twirler

Teeling off in the second inning with an onslaught that netted a half dozen runs, Croton stalled the Slovaks City Baseball league pennant match, 9-6, Wednesday night on new Mahoning field.

Deadlocked at 2-all in the second, the Crotonites clinched the verdict with the big wild inning. D. Robinson, N. Robinson and Rubies smashed doubles for the winners while Budai poked a triple for the losers.

The setback left the Slovaks three games behind the leading Moose club. Croton ascended into the 500 division with a half dozen victories against the same number of defeats.

Keeping score for Cincinnati is my idea of a nice soft job. As of yesterday, Cincy's total runs in 115 games reached the 410 figure, a little better than three runs per game. In the majors, the Reds are kept out of last place, in the run making department, by the reliable Phillies. In view of this, the Reds don't have to worry about wearing out home plate.

Since the last football season, 32 colleges have quit the sport for the duration. Notre Dame's opening game pairs the Irish against Wisconsin at Madison September 26. I like N.D. The Athletics have released Pitcher Newman Shirley, a right-hander.

Up to Wednesday, the Yankees had taken part in 21 double-headers this season, winning seven, splitting 12 and losing two—both to the White Sox. . . . Johnny Pesky is Joe Cronin's nominee of rookie of the year. . . . Practically all clubs have some kind of a nominee but our Buccos.

FAIR OR FOUL By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The story of the Dodgers heretofore well-laid plans for another nickel world series with the Yanks, and 10 days and thus perpetrate one of baseball's greatest upsets. If the Cardinals ever catch the Dodgers, and get them, down, the current league-leaders may never be able to climb back to their feet again, and if it's going to happen it probably will be before the end of next week.

Seemingly bent upon running away with another championship up until the last week, the Dodgers suddenly have begun to flounder, and in the period since last Sunday have seen their lead over the Cards cut from a safe, snug 9½ games to 6½, their margin as of Wednesday.

Cards Coming On
The Dodgers all of a sudden and for no reason that can be explained or identified have begun to go back and the Cardinals are coming on. It will take a quick about face by the league champions to avert that which would be a worse fate than death for their Flatbush followers. While it is true that the Dodgers haven't been playing too badly, the Cards have been playing a little better and pushing the opposition aside while climbing higher and higher.

And they are going to be at home for a four-game series starting on Tuesday night of next week—and that series conceivably could settle the issue to all intents and purposes. A club that gets not this late some times can't be stopped and the Cards might be that kind of a club. If the Dodgers go to St. Louis by just four or five games in front—or even less—they will have a fight on their hands, and no assurance that they will win it.

This positively is no prediction that the Dodgers are going to let this one slip away, but as previously mentioned, they can blow it in the next 10 days, or more specifically between now and the time they get to St. Louis.

There is a wide difference between being nearly a dozen games in front and no better than even with young, tough club like the Cards, with their stringy, hard-flinging fellows who would seem better able to make a stretch run than the veteran Dodgers. The kind of guys the Cards have could go a long way on momentum at a time when the desperate Dodgers were beginning to feel the effects of the grind.

Watch that trip of the Dodgers through the west next week and from then on. It undoubtedly will hold the answer to their chances of winning another pennant. It is almost inconceivable that such a situation should exist now, and for all I know, I'm over-stressing the importance of the thing, but it seems obvious that if the Dodgers could lose three games in the standings in three days they might lose another half dozen in a week and that would bring this thing around to a tie, and from then on it would be anybody's pennant.

Tripp May Tell
The fact that the Dodgers are hitting the road after this week in what has all the earmarks of a slump is definitely against them. They will play every city in the league, except Philadelphia, before they come home again on Sept. 8. That could be the crusher—that long heira through the west and the east for 16 games on foreign soil with their hold seemingly slipping.

PIRATES WIN IN ONE-HIT THRILLER

West Side Pirates won a thrilling one-hit game at the Lee avenue field Tuesday evening, ragged fielding behind a near-perfect performance by Jopek of East Side Fannins failing to bring home the bacon. Bobosky of the Pirates only yielded three hits, which the Fannins could convert into but one run.

Stock Market Drops Slightly

Declines Range From Fractions To More Than Point

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The stock market today declined fractions to more than a point on further profit-taking attracted by the recent rise.

Rails and other leaders of the uptrend which carried through eight straight sessions up to yesterday, were weakest. Santa Fe was set back more than a point to 44½. Atlantic Coast Line, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, declined fractions from their 1942 highs.

Steels were mostly fractions under previous closings. Chrysler was off more than a point.

Other shares to lose large fractions to around a point were Hamaker, Pullman, Anaconda, General Electric and J. I. Case.

Such groups as mail orders, rubbers, packing and tobaccos, showed marked irregularity. American Telephone displayed some support, as did some aviation shares.

Travel Problem Survey To Start

Questionnaires Go Out For Employees Of All Plants
To Sign

'SHARE CAR' PLAN WILL BE BOOSTED

Questionnaires aimed at recording the individual transportation problems of employees of all New Castle plants were delivered to the industries today for distribution to the workers.

The New Castle War Transportation Committee, in a letter accompanying the shipment of forms, asked that the questionnaires be passed out to the workers immediately.

The filled-in forms are to be returned to the committee so results of the survey may be summarized. When this tabulation is completed the committee will return them to the respective plants.

Requested by ODT

Transportation Administrator Thomas C. Moore stressed that the survey is being made at the request of the Office of Defense Transportation. He said the importance of obtaining the information is self-evident and urged full co-operation.

Emphasized in the letter also was the movement to have all employees join in "share-the-car" groups, for the express purpose of conserving tires.

The completed questionnaires, expected back promptly, will be studied by the transportation committee members for ways and means of establishing car-sharing units as soon as possible.

KIWANIS ELECTION NEARING

Election of new Kiwanis club officers again neared today as primary ballots, due to be filled in and returned to the election committee on or before August 26, were mailed to the membership.

Authorities of Zurich, Switzerland, have recommended that children be required to go barefooted during the summer to conserve leather, says the Department of Commerce.

STEP TOWARDS SCHOOL

Before Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday morning one of the steps necessary towards the construction of a Catholic high school in New Castle was taken.

With his counsel, former Judge Charles Matthews, Rev. F. M. McCarter, pastor of St. Mary's church, appeared in court with a petition to have the residue of the estate of the late Kate Mitchell paid over to St. Mary's church for the establishment of a high school to be known as St. Joseph's high school.

Under a codicil of the will of the late Kate Mitchell drawn in 1922, the residue of her estate was to be paid over to the church when it installed a high school. That time has come, in the opinion of the church committee of St. Mary's and the petition was argued Wednesday morning.

In the petition it was stated that an architect has been employed to draw plans for the new structure and that it will cost approximately $45,000.

They were married November 24, 1938 in New Castle.

The Circle Lumber company sure D. K. Cole for $1845.33 alleged to be due on a purchase of materials.

Willard F. Zehner files a suit against David R. and Viola Lewis for $338.00 alleged to be due for house insulation.

Ethel Cecelia Casimiri of New Castle asks a divorce from Dewey Casimiri of New Castle alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married May 10, 1931 in New Cumberland, W. Va.

The British government in urging economy in the purchase of pottery estimated that 90 million cups are broken each year in that country, the Department of Commerce reports.
